*Future Ridge Table options
being considered:*

Various Sizes, Shapes and Heights

The Ridge Cube Table was originally created for a customer who sought after a low profile contemporary style that served as a visual design piece rather than a functional one. We decided to expand on this concept and make these tables both visually appealing and functional at the same time by increasing the height of the cube. Other designs are available, including the Half-Drum Ridge Table, which complements the armless chair nicely. Whether you are looking for design, function or both, Transformations® can customize pieces to meet specifications and exceed expectations.
